TO THE VOTERS

Of the Fifth Congressional District, composed of the counties of Alamance, Randolph, Guilford, Rockingham, Davidson, Forsythe, Surry, Person and Caswell.

FELLOW-CITIZENS:—In compliance with the wishes of a number of citizens of the Fifth Congressional District, I have consented to place my name before you as a candidate for a seat in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States. This trust, at all times one of great responsibility, is rendered peculiarly so in the present extraordinary juncture of our public affairs.

Just emerged, as we have, from one of the most sanguinary and disastrous wars, which history records, with our constitutional relations to the government not yet entirely restored, the crisis demands the utmost prudence and the most disinterested patriotism to attain this most desirable result. It is true that the Convention of the State has fully responded to the wishes of the people of the State, and by its action has done every thing in its power towards accomplishing that end, yet it is still subject to the decision of the national authorities.

First in the list of duties inscribed among those that appertain to the representative trust, is to aid, by all honorable means, the complete restoration of the State to those relations with the Federal Union, which for near a century, so happily and beneficially subsisted between them. I need not say, that this with me, if honored with your confidence, would be the first and most cherished object of my wishes.

No duty would be so pleasing as to aid in restoring our State to the noble government which Washington and his compatriots of the revolution gave us. Let us then, again seek to share that great inheritance of which we have for a time been deprived by a most extraordinary infatuation. Let us seek to unite in fraternal bonds with that great family of States which constitute the greatest and freest government in ancient and modern times. At the same time let us cast the mantle of charity over former differences of opinion, and regard those who differed with us as friends and patriots, who now unite with us in the great work of reconstruction.

In the policy of President Johnson, I behold the path of peace, safety and honor, to conduct us thro' these difficulties. While he stands on national ground as the partizan of no one section and as equally the friend of all, he is our intrepid defender against the meditated aggressions of revolutionary radicalism.—As one, cordially, uniting in his official capacity, in the plans and policy of President Johnson, it is only simple justice to Gov. Holden, to say, that he has most faithfully and beneficially exerted his authority to that end, and has pursued a course which entitles him to decided public approval.

Impoverished and exhausted, as our State has been, by the results of the late war, it will be peculiarly the duty of those who represent her in the Congress to endeavor to lighten her burdens as much as practicable with respect to taxation, and to obtain from the government such indulgence as can be had with regard to the taxes, for which the State is now subject.

As respects our foreign relations, peace and friendship with all, entangling alliance with none, asking what is right, and submitting to nothing which is wrong, should be the maxims and the policy of our government as they were in the best days of the Republic.

I trust my course for many years past is not altogether unknown, on the question of the Federal Union. In the Senate of the United States, more than thirty years since, in the debate on the force bill against the nullification ordinance of South Carolina, I declared, in a speech delivered by me at that time in the establishment of a military despotism. Afterwards, when extreme men of the South and North agitated the slave question, as I then and now believe, from mischievous motives, I resisted it, in opposition to both extremes, as tending to a dissolution of the Union. In 1860 and '61, when the movement in favor of secession was first made in our Legislature, I was then a member of the State senate, and made every effort which I was capable of making in opposition to it.

This I continued to do till every Southern State had seceded and the war had commenced, leaving no doubt if North-Carolina remained alone that civil war in her borders would be inevitable, and that she would become the battle ground of both the Confederate and Federal armies. To avoid that calamity, the State, opposed, as she ever had been, to disunion, yielded her own earnest wishes to the pressure of circumstance, and went with her Southern sister States.

I am confident it was done in the hope, by the people, that their patriotic counsels would moderate those of their Southern sisters, and ultimately obtain an adjustment by which the Union would be restored. During the entire war, I have no doubt, if the freedom of opinion had not been suppressed, that North-Carolina was, at all times, in favor of an honorable settlement of the question. Such were my own anxious wishes, as I always regarded a dissolution of the Union as bringing with it military despotism and the abolition of slavery. Those who were in power at Richmond, however, pursued a different course, and the result has been such a sacrifice as no people have suffered. The restoration of the Federal Union gives assurance of peace and civil liberty. Disunion is civil war, anarchy, military despotism and all its attendant evils. The re establishment of the Federal Union nobly vindicates the principles of republican freedom, and proclaims the great principle so much denied by titled orders—that man is capable of self government.

Such are the views entertained by me on general questions of public policy, briefly and hastily written, amidst public engagements. If it shall be your pleasure to elect me as your representative, I shall regard it as a distinguished mark of public favor, and my best efforts will be directed to the advancement of the public good.

Most respectfully,
Your fellow-citizen,
BEDFORD BROWN.

Trial of Emerson Etheridge.

CAIRO, Ill., October 14, 1865.

The Court for the trial of Emerson Etheridge is now in session at Columbus Ky. Etheridge stated he had no objection to any member of the Court, and wished to act as his own counsel. He asked the Court to grant him time to file his own plea against jurisdiction, &c.

On the second day of the trial Emerson Etheridge, the accused, who had been permitted to plead his own case, read a plea denying the jurisdiction of the Commission, which the Court overruled, upon which Etheridge filed an exception to the ruling. He then plead not guilty to all the charges and specifications, except the second specification and second charge, which he plead guilty, and the Court allowed him to introduce the whole letter from which the extract was made. This letter is known as the "Dresden letter," dated June 28, in which he made the declaration that Tennessee had no law but force, and no semblance to civil government, State or Federal, but a usurpation enforced by the bayonets of negroes. After some evidence for the prosecution the accused presented the Court with a written statement which admits all the facts in the first charge, namely, the encouragement of resistence to the enforcement of [illegible]

Will any of our republican contemporaries solve this riddle?

The theory and universal assertion of the Abolition party always has been that slavery degraded the negro in body and mind, made him and kept him ignorant and vicious, and denied him both the intellectual and moral culture, which distinguishes man from the brute. Nevertheless, these abolitionists clamor for the extension of the highest privileges of citizenship to those degraded beings here, while they deny the same privileges to the negroes in their own midst, who have been free all their lives.

For forty years they have declared that slavery was the sum of all villanies; they now turn round and proclaim, in effect, that it was a blessing, not a curse; that it has qualified the negro for the enjoyment and exercise of the largest political power, while freedom has left the negro with all his original incapacity for enjoying American liberty and the rights of American citizenship!

It is not difficult to appreciate the complaint of a negro in Connecticut, who, upon being asked if he was not in favor of giving the Southern States adopt negro suffrage, replied, 'Certainly, sir, but I am opposed to being forced to emigrate to a Southern State to enjoy that privilege.'"—Petersburg Index.

COLORED TROOPS.—We are glad to learn that Gen. Ruger is sending troops from Raleigh to Wilmington and Newbern, preparatory to moving all colored troops from these latter cities. Gen Ruger has also assured the Governor that all colored soldiers would be removed from Newbern and Wilmington as soon as the weather became sufficiently cool for white troops to be sent there with safety. We are glad to learn that the wishes of the citizens of those cities and Governor Holden are also the wishes and plans of General Ruger.—Standard.

Hope writes the poetry of youth, but memory that of age. Age looks forward with smiles, but backward with sighs. The cup of life is ever sweetest at the brim; the flavor is impaired as we drink deeper; and the drugs are made bitter that we may not struggle when it is taken from our lips.

The Hindoos have a poor opinion of the gentler sex, who by their native authors are declared to be "the cause of all the evil in the world." Instead of being graced with those celestial epithets which we apply to them, they are compared to "fiends." A Brahmin writer says, "One may trust poison, a river, a hurricane, a fierce elephant, a tiger, or the angel of death; but if one trust a woman, he will soon become a beggar."

In oriental countries it is customary for the Jew, in his morning prayer, to thank God that he 'did not make him a woman;' and his humble sponse thanks God that he did not make her anything worse.

A Greek maiden being asked what fortune she would bring her husband, returned this noble reply:—"I will bring him what gold cannot purchase; an unspotted heart, a virtue without stain, which is all that descended to me from my parents.

Honor women! They scatter roses on the path of early life; they weave the happy bonds of love; and beneath the modest veil of the graces, they nourish with a sacred hand the immortal flower of noble sentiments.

There is no such thing as an easy chair for a discontented woman. If she was to sit upon cushions of down, she would fancy them filled with nettles.

A printer's toast: "Woman—the best and fairest work in creation; the edition being so extensive, let no man be without a copy."

The violet grows low, and covers itself yields the sweetest fragrance. Such is humility.

The Caliph Abu-Bekr used to say, 'The women are all an evil; but the greatest evil of all is, that they are necessary.

Young ladies should never object to being kissed by editors; but should make every allowance for the freedom of the press.

ELECTIONS.

The Elections for Governor, Representatives to Congress, and Members of Assembly, Sheriffs and Clerks, will take place on Thursday, the 9th day of November, 1865.

National Union Andrew Johnson Ticket!

FOR GOVERNOR,

WILLIAM W. HOLDEN,

OF WAKE COUNTY.

We are authorized to announce Dr. J. G. RAMSAY a candidate for Congress in the 6th District, composed of the counties of Rowan, Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Union, Gaston, Lincoln, Catawba, Iredell, Alexander, Wilkes, Yadkin, and Davie. dte126

THOMAS McNEELY

Announces himself as a candidate for the office, as Clerk of the Superior Court of Rowan, at the ensuing election.

Oct. 18 1865. ted126

☞ We are authorized to announce WILLIAM A. WALTON, as a candidate for the office of Sheriff for Rowan County.

We are authorized to announce A. W. OWEN, a Candidate for the office of County Court Clerk of Rowan, at the ensuing election.

☞ We are authorized to announce OBADIAH WOODSON, a candidate for the office of, County Court Clerk of Rowan, at the ensuing election.

The Holden Candidate for Congress.

Dr. J. G. Ramsay has announced himself a candidate for Congress. He votes against W. W. Holden for Governor. This gentleman's record is well known to the people of the sixth Congressional district. If he did not sustain Gov. Holden during the late war, his actions, or public acts, were identical with those of Mr. Holden. Why he forsakes the Governor now is not so clearly defined. He doubtless, like Mr. Hanes, has found out at the eleventh hour that his political salvation depends upon the agitation of some radical idea foreign to the real issue in this campaign. Dr. Ramsay is a gentleman of great political crimes, and it may be that Gov. Holden thought proper to keep him in a state of probation during a certain length of time before he endorsed his application for pardon.—Hence Messrs. Ramsay and James have no claim for either of them. Mr. Brown in the Fifth district, and Dr. Wm. Sloan of Gaston—the Sixth, both good Holden men, will be elected.

Let the people put their feet upon the Worth faction, if they desire an early readmission into the Union.

Who are the Candidates?

Two weeks to day and the election for members to the Legislature &c., &c. takes place. As yet no one has been announced for the Legislature. We presume, however, that there will be no lack of candidates. We have heard not less than a half dozen names suggested. All prominent gentlemen, burning for the race. They are Messrs. J. K. Graham, J. P. Marlin, P. A. Sifford, J. K. Burke, D. L. Bringle, for the Commons, and F. E. Shober for the Senate. We would like to see all these gentlemen elected, but we have an idea that some of them will be disappointed.

All jesting aside, we think it about time the people were fixing upon some suitable gentlemen to represent the county in a creditable manner.

MECHANIC'S MEETING.

A portion of the Mechanics of Salisbury met on last Tuesday night, and after some deliberation adjourned over to next Tuesday night the 31st. The meeting will take place at Barker's Hall. The object of the meeting will be apparent to all. It is for forming a Mechanic's Association for mutual protection, and it is hoped that all Mechanics will attend.

Gen. Wade Hampton declines to be a candidate for the Governorship of South Carolina. He is devoting himself to the experiment of free negro labor, having hired every one of his former slaves.

THE TAX ON BRANDY.

Assessor's Office, U. S. Interna[l] Revenue 2d District, N. C., Salisbury, Sept. 29.

Hon. William Orton, Commissio[ner] of Internal Revenue:

SIR:—A good many of the distill[ers] of brandy in this district, especially [those] who distilled for their neighbors, [have] now got through distilling for the pr[esent] year. In the mean time, they, th[e dis]tillers have permitted their neighb[ors] to take away the brandy thus made for [them] and have sold that which belong to t[hem]selves. It has been impossible fo[r me] to assess this brandy for the want o[f or]ganization. In the absence of the [proper] officer, a collector, to grant thes[e dis]tillers licenses, they contend that [they] are not liable for the tax of one d[ollar] and fifty cents per gallon.

Of course, I don't think as they do, but what I want to know is, shall I re[quire] these distillers to return upon oath the amount of brandy they have thus [per]mitted to leave their establishment [from] the time they commenced the distilla[tion] of the same.

Very respectfully,
H. H. HELPER, Assessor.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Office of Internal Revenue,
Washington, Oct. 10th 1865.

SIR:—Your letter of the 29th ult., [rela]tive to distillers of brandy, in your [dis]trict, has been received.

The distillers named by you, shall take out licenses as such, and they shall make returns for all brandy distilled by them, from the date of the establishment of your district, as set forth in Sec[tion] 2d, of circular of Secretary of the Treasury, dated June 21st, 1865.

Very respectfully,
E. A. ROLLINS,
Deputy Commissioner.

H. H. HELPER, Esq., Assessor, 3d Dist[rict], Salisbury, N. C.

From a Correspondent of the Danville Tim[es]

DEAR [illegible]:—After leaving Danville [illegible] first stopping point was Thomasville, N. C., where I found everything progressing as usual. The "Glenn Anna" Female College, under the charge of a competent corps of instructors, bids fair to be one of the leading institutions of female education in North Carolina.

The manufacture of Boots and Shoes by the Messrs. Lines, at this place is about to be resumed, upon a more extensive scale than formerly. This place is decidedly the Lynn, Mass. of the South, with the exception of the negro affiliating proclivity.

Arriving at Salisbury I found the town handsomely lighted with gas, and everything proceeding as before the war. The "BANNER" office is doing well. Mr. Leonidas Brown (a graduate of H. S. College,) is conducting a school here, but I am sorry to say is not as well patronized as he should be. Miss Hunter in the higher branches, and Miss Alice Pearson in the primary branches, are each conducting schools under very favorable auspices. The difficulty now a days in the way of good male schools, is, that parents who send their sons to school will take them away if the schoolmaster objects to their ruling the school and himself too. They must not be whipped! That would be terrible! The boys must do as they please, whip the teacher if they can, and have their own way in general. No wonder crime is on the increase, and ignorance stocks the land.

The civil authorities are now in charge here and everything goes on well. The burnt district is being rebuilt, and the spirit of improvement rages high.

Pretty girls are plentiful here, and the sight of them prevents me from writing more;

For how can one from them withdraw
And turn his gaze another way,
When common justice, and the law,
Says they shall have exclusive sway?

I will write again from Charlotte, N. C.

D. S. C.

New Orleans, Oct. 4, 1865.—Matamoras advices state that Cortina, Canales and Escobedo have combined their forces and are marching on Matamoras with twelve hundred liberals, robbing and plundering the whole country. Captain Ney's cavalry are operating between Matamoras and Monterey.

Nine hundred Belgians and Mexicans defeated three thousand five hundred Jurists near Caroma, in the State of Micoacan, on the 17th of July, capturing one hundered and seventy prisoners, six hundred stand of arms and six pieces of artillery. They proceeded in the direction of Tehaucan.

GENERAL NEWS.

A WAIF.—The following General invitation from a Confederate country maiden to a friend in the city, as penned before the Confederacy "went up":—

Come leave the noisy LONGSTREET
And come to the FIELDS with me;
Trip o'er the HETH with flying feet
And skip along the LEE,
There EWELL find the flowers that be Along the STONEWALL still,
And pluck the buds of flowering pea
That grow on A. P. HILL,
Across the RHODES the FOREST boughs
A stately ARCHWAY form,
Where sadly pipes that EARLY bird
That never caught the worm.
Come hasten, for the BEE is gone,
And WHEAT lies on the plains;
Come braid a GARLAND ere the leaves
Fall in the "Blasting "RAINS."

Rains will be recollected as the partner of McDaniel in the torpedo business.

The Wirz Trial—Evidence Concluded—Case Submitted without Argument by the Defence.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The Wirz trial, so far as the testimony is concerned, was concluded to day. The Court offered to give the counsel for the defence twelve days in which to prepare his argument, but this Mr. Baker refused to accept. He prayed two weeks, owing to the immense amount of testimony to be examined, so he submitted his case without argument. The Court adjourned until Wednesday, when Judge Advocate Chipman will deliver his argument for the Government, and thus close the case. The record of the testimony in this case makes 5,000 foolscap pages, divided into 70 parts, and contain between three and four hundred objections and rulings of the Court. One hundred and sixty witnesses were examined on both sides, several of whom were individually on the stand two days for examination in chief and cross examination.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR OUR

Standard HISTORY of the War.

Containing a full, authentic and reliable account of the "great conflict," from its commencement to its close. Complete in one very large volume, of over 1,000 pages: containing reading matter equal to three large royal octavo volumes splendidly illustrated with over 125 fine portraits of Generals and battle scenes.

This is just the book the people want. It presents a rare chance for Agents. Teachers, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. This work has no rival as a candid, lucid, complete, authentic and reliable history of the war. Send for circulars and see our terms. Great Southern Mail Route.

Carrying United States Mail and Adams' Express through entirely by rail to Washington City, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, and Lynchburg via the Orange and Alexandria and Virginia Central Railroads. 411 miles continuous Rail, TWICE DAILY.

The Orange and Alexandria Railroad having been put in complete repair, are now running two trains daily between Washington City and Lynchburg, connecting with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Washington, the Virginia and Tennesse railroad at Lynchburg, and at Gordonsville with the Virginia Central railroad for Staunton and Richmond, which connects with the Richmond and Petersburg and Richmond and Danville railroads, and the steamers for Norfolk and Portsmouth. Passengers taking this line pass in full view of the various battle fields along the line of the Virginia Central Railroad, between Richmond and Gordonsville, and the famous fields of Manassas, Bristoe and Cedar Mountain, on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, and may rely upon making close and regular connections with the lines indicated Elegant cars run upon this line, and every accommodation furnished to make the passengers comfortable.

Through passengers arriving in Richmond by the Virginia Central, Richmond and Danville, and Richmond and Petersburg Railroads, will find Gurkers & Co's omnibuses to transport them between depots. Passengers have ample time to dine and sup at Gordonsville.
